THE FACTS

What is Ringwood Foodbank?

With no financial safety net, a sudden crisis, such as illness, redundancy or benefit delay, can leave even wage-earners unable to feed themselves or their family.

Such situations can quickly deteriorate, leading to relationship breakdown, house repossession or worse.

Ringwood Foodbank works to support people who find themselves on the edge of a crisis.

How does a foodbank work?

Food is donated by local people from across the area, which is then sorted by volunteers, ready for distribution.

We work with local front-line care professionals, such as the CAB, GPs and others who identify people in crisis and give them a voucher.

On taking their voucher to a foodbank centre, clients receive a warm welcome, a hot drink and three days' supply of food.

We also signpost clients to agencies who can help to resolve the underlying causes of the crisis.

So, what is this 500 club?

We want to find 500 supporters who can give £2 or more each month to help keep Ringwood Foodbank running, which will then continue to provide people in crisis with a lifeline.

Regular support by standing order means we can plan our work, giving Ringwood Foodbank the confidence that comes from regular income.

If you would like to help in this way, please fill in your details below and we can send you a standing order mandate.
